SAUNDERS SURRENDERS

Says he Shot at a Man But Tennessee Man Buys Two Farms Near Lafayette.

George Saunders, the negro who is charged with shooting and wounding Milly Moore, colored cook at Mr. H. I. Minty's a few days ago, surrendered to the authorities Thursday. He was placed in jail. Saunders denies that he intended to shoot the woman and says that he shot at a man.

The Moore woman is still alive and will probably recover.

Christian County Ladies Elected.

The Ninth Annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union, an auxiliary of the General Association of Kentucky Baptists, was held in Paducah Wednesday. Among the officers elected were: Mrs. W. E. Mitchell, of Pembroke, vice-president, and Miss Elizabeth Garrett, of Oak Grove, re-elected secretary.

CHANGES HANDS.

A. J. Hester and F. I. Fraser, of Lafayette, have sold their farms of about one hundred acres each to a Mr. Hargis, of Bumpus Mill, Tenn. It is understood that the former got $40 an acre and the latter $25. Mr. Hester gives immediate possession and Mr. Fraser gives possession Jan. 1. Mr. Hargis has also purchased of Mr. Henry Hayes his residence in Lafayette, the price being $2,000, and he will move to that town in a short while.

Coleman Hunting Club.

Clarksville, Tenn., Nov. 16.—The Coleman Hunting Club, twenty-nine strong, left at 2:16 a. m. for Marks, Miss. They traveled in their own private car, electrically lighted and otherwise equipped, for the purpose.

BEAUTIFUL ENTRANCE

Notable Improvements Have Been Made At Riverside Cemetery.

STONE MEMORIAL POSTS

Upon Which Will Be Subscribed The Names of Revolutionary Soldiers.

The extensive improvements at the southern entrance to Riverside Cemetery have been about completed and are very handsome and elegant in the design. The work was done by Mr. L. H. Davis, the contractor, and the design was his own. There are four large stone columns in the center, of dressed Bowling Green stone, about 30 inches square and eight feet high, surmounted by ornamental caps of the same material. These posts support two iron double gates and between the pairs of posts is another iron gate for pedestrians. At the two sides of the entrance, 100 feet wide, there are smaller posts of the same kind, and the iron fence extends to these. The driveways inside are separated by a row of maple trees and there are two other rows on the sides. On each side of the central row are handsome concrete walks that merge into one broad walk when the cemetery itself is reached and this walk extends well up into the grounds. The improvements cost more than $3,000 and the driveways, which have been raised two or three feet, are yet to be macadamized. The work was done under the direction of the Cemetery Committee composed of Councilmen A. W. Wood, Geo. E. Randle and N. A. Barnett.

LAST FORMS FOR THE DAM

Considerable Headway Has Been Made During The Week.

BUILT ON SOLID ROCK BED.

Contract Calls For Completion By December 13, Bridge and All.

George W. Walker, who is in charge of the construction work of the Second street bridge and dam, took advantage of the nice weather this week to push the work of getting in the forms for the eastern pier and the eastern half of the dam. This work was finished yesterday and the forms are now ready for the concrete. The foundation for the dam and piers is perfect, being altogether of bedrock, within a foot of the surface. The fill for the approach on the east side is being made with earth taken from the Elks Home basement. With one more week of good weather, the dam will reach a point where high water will not be so much dreaded. The contract calls for its completion by Dec. 13. The bridge itself was to be up by Nov. 20, but the pier will not be ready for two weeks.

MR. BIBLE TO SPEAK.

Has Consented To Deliver The Elks Memorial Address December 3.

Hon. John F. Bible, recently of Ionia, Mich., but at present manager of the Mogul Wagon Works, will be the orator of the day at the annual memorial exercises of Hopkinsville Lodge No. 545 B. P. O. E., the first Sunday in December. Mr. Bible occupied a very prominent position in Michigan both as a business man and leader of the Democratic party. He possesses much ability and eloquence as a public speaker and his first appearance as a platform orator in Hopkinsville will be awaited with great interest. He is an enthusiastic Elk and his tribute to the order is expected to be a gem. The arrangements for the open session are in the hands of a committee composed of Lawson Flack, Col. Jouett Henry, George A. Bleich, Jas. Ridgway and John Stites.

LITTLE IMPROVEMENT

Shown In the Condition of John Wynn.

John Wynn, the North Christian farmer who was so badly injured Monday night by falling over a bluff, is not improving enough to hold out hopes of his recovery. He is still at Mr. Major's on the Canton pike, and has never entirely regained consciousness and other complications are threatened, due to exposure after he fell. Mr. Wynn was preparing to move to another state, having a few days before sold his farm to Tom Young, who was killed by falling over the same bluff with Mr. Wynn.

Died in Nashville.

The remains of Mr. George W. Word arrived in Clarksville Tuesday night, where they were taken in charge by Undertaker McReynolds, and placed in the vault at Greenwood to await the interment, which will take place in a day or two. Mr. Word, who was a brother of Dr. J. A. B. Word, of Oak Grove, died in a hospital at Nashville where he had gone for treatment.

He was unmarried and lived near his brother. Dr. Word was here Tuesday night to meet the remains. —Leaf Chronicle.

Almost Ready To Mount Into the Air.

Judge Chas. O. Prowse is still here with his biplane, which is in one of the workshops of the Forbes Manufacturing Co. undergoing general repairs. Many minor troubles caused by the rough handling in shipping the big flying machine were found and these have all been repaired and the planes have been made practically new. Judge Prowse expects to make flights in the machine in the near future. It had been used in many flights before it was brought here and he is determined to show his home people what his invention will do.

COMING HOME

Stanley Long Will Remove From Henderson And Go Into Business Here.

Mr. Stanley Long, eldest son of the late Mr. E. B. Long, is arranging to remove from Henderson and locate permanently in Hopkinsville. He has been in the internal revenue service for several years, with headquarters in Henderson. He will give this position up at the end of the year. Mr. Long has bought a half interest in the Elgin Cigar Co. now owned by Mr. C. S. Jarrett. The other half will be transferred by Mr. Jarrett to his son Charles Jarrett, Jr., who has had control of the business largely since his father's health became impaired. Mr. Long's many friends will be glad to know that he will return with his family to Hopkinsville.

That the year just closing will be recorded in history as one of unprecedented loss ratio, severely testing the reserves of fire insurance companies operating in the United States, was the declaration of John M. Mr. James H. Bassett, one of the best known traveling men in Louisville, was killed in an automobile accident in Lynchburg, Va., Tuesday, where he was on business for his house, the Hegan Mantel Co., for which company he had traveled for thirty years. Mr. Bassett was a brother of Col. E. B. Bassett and Dr. F. H. Bassett of this city, and was about 50 years old. He leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. Clarence Braden, of Louisville.

Thos. G. Littlehales, formerly of this city, was elected Councilman on the Democratic ticket in Camden, N. J., in a Republican ward with 350 majority ordinarily. It was a hard pull but Tom got in by 19 votes. Mr. Littlehales was the first Exalted Ruler of the Hopkinsville Elks lodge. His friends here rejoice to know that he is still making good.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly.

No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

The great Presidential campaign will soon begin and you will want the news accurately and promptly. The World long since established a record for impartiality, and anybody can afford its Thrice-a-Week edition, which comes every other day in the week, except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The Thrice-a-Week World also abounds in other strong features, serial stories, humor, markets, cartoons; in fact, everything that is to be found in a first-class daily.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

Not a Day in Bed.

Gramling, S. C.—In a letter from Gramling, Mrs. Lula Walden says: "I was so weak before I began taking Cardui, that it tired me to walk just a little. Since taking it, I do all the housework for my family of nine, and have not been in bed a day. Cardui is the greatest remedy for women, on earth." Weak women need Cardui. It is the ideal woman's tonic, because it is especially adapted for women's needs. It relieves backache, headache, dragging feelings, and other female misery. Try Cardui. A few doses will show you what it can do for you. It may be just what you want.

Charged With Horse Stealing.

Will Jones, colored, was arrested at Madisonville charged with stealing a horse from Tom Farmer, near Crofton. He sold the horse to Joe McNary, col., who brought it to this city to sell and was arrested, but was released when he told a straight story and gave up the horse, which was returned to its owner. McNary has been on the lookout for Jones for a month or more and finally located him in Henderson, where he was caught and sent to Madisonville.

AMUSEMENTS

The W. H. Lewis Amusement Company's production of Howard Hall's masterpiece, "The Angel of the Trail," is one long to be remembered. This powerful story of life in Western Arizona does not depend on gun play for its startling situations and thrilling climaxes—as is the case with so many plays dealing with life in the West, but by bright sparkling lines, acted by a company of superb artists, supporting the clever star, Miss Eva Lewis. This beautiful play has been able to stand the severe test of all the critics. Special scenery and electric effects are carried for each act. At Holland's Opera House one night only. Nov. 20th. Prices 25-35-50c.

Sprang a Surprise.

Counsel for the indicted Chicago meat packers sprang a surprise on the Government attorneys yesterday when they surrendered their clients and Judge Kohlsatt issued a writ of habeas corpus for their release, returnable Thursday. The petitioners attacked the constitutionality of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Topics Discussed.

Animated discussion of the advisability of amending the Kentucky Constitution so as to permit of a classified instead of a uniform tax marked the night session of the Greater Kentucky convention Monday. Good roads and better schools came in for their share of attention at the morning and afternoon sessions.

Bottom of The Maine.

Exploration at the bottom of the battleship Maine disclosed further evidence that explosion was caused by outward pressure. The body of an unusually tall man was recovered from the boiler room.

Ousted By Another State.

The Supreme Court of Missouri ousted the International Harvester Company of America from doing business in that State and fined it $50,000, the latter payable by January 1, 1913.

Who Was There That You Knew?

In the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there a grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was there? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War

THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $30,000; they were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked from a pillar to post for nearly 50 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector. J. Pierpont Morgan tried to secure the collection—Ex-President Garfield and General Benjamin F. Butler said it was worth $150,000—yet with the help of the Library of Congress, the entire collection has been gathered into 10 great volumes and is placed within your reach at less than the value of one of the photographs. It is the most accurate, impartial history of the Civil War—written by a man who cannot lie. It tells the story of the War you have heard of. Taken under protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little-known phases of the war they penetrate to strange places and reveal things that were never known before.

THREE THINGS YOU NEED..

First—"Kentuckian"

A virile, newsy newspaper with the interest of the entire community at heart. Issues of the day are handled without fear or favor. You will find in this paper an up-to-date department for each member of the family. Clean, honest, straightforward—it is a paper your family should not be without.

Second—Technical World Magazine

is the one magazine that not only entertains in a fascinating manner, but which also instructs. It is the magazine for the busy business man, or for the person who wants to pull away a summer's afternoon, and be agreeably informed at the same time. It is profusely illustrated, and tells in a simple and interesting way of the discoveries of scientists, the achievements of inventors, the feats of engineers and explorers, and the opening of every new field of human endeavor. What Jack London says—"I have just chanced upon my first copy of TECHNICAL WORLD MAGAZINE. There isn't anything like it. I want more, and I cannot wait for them to come, so I am sending you herewith check for which please enter my subscription and send me immediately the last two years' back numbers."

Third—A Fine Atlas

This one is just off the presses. This is the year to obtain a new atlas. The 1910 Census has just been completed, this atlas contains the official figures, 128 pages of 2 color maps brought right down to date—every map giving the results of the most recent surveys. All railroads are shown and named and maps of all large cities are included. There are 21 double page maps showing in detail portions of the U. S. and Canada. Dimensions 10 1/2 x 13 1/4. Bound in stiff linen—Silver Leaf Title—printed on heavy plate paper. Sells regularly for $3.00. A splendid gift.

ALL THREE
Only $3.80

Special arrangement with Technical World Magazine and the publishers of this Atlas make this offer possible. But it is very strictly limited. You must act immediately.

IGOROTS ARE GOOD WORKERS

Native Carpenters and Stone Masons Help Build Church at Bontoc.

Bontoc in particular and the Igorot country in general will soon have its first permanent Christian church, for the building planned by the Belgian missionary fathers is nearing completion, according to advices brought by Father Sepulchre, a member of the mission.

The new church is a substantial stone structure and will cost 30,000 pesos. It is notable for the fact that Igorot mechanics have participated in the work of construction as carpenters, masons, plumbers.

Four years ago Rev. Father Jurgens began the building, since when—with the assistance of Father Sepulchre, four Belgian sisters and one brother as a teaching staff—a remarkable record has been made among the Igorots, who are described by the fathers as very industrious and docile.

Some 250 Igorot boys and girls have been instructed in the ordinary school grades and additional instruction has been given in industrial work. Thus there are in Bontoc some seventy artisans, practical shoemakers, horse-shoers and the like who owe their training to the fathers.

The girls are instructed by the sisters in domestic sciences, cooking, dressmaking, lacemaking, weaving and the school today numbers thirty-eight of these students. The latest addition to the curriculum is agriculture, and this has had a very marked effect on the prosperity of the neighborhood.—Manila Times.

TO PROTECT WORKS OF ART

Italy Proposes to Insist on Government Certificate of Sale for Art Treasures.

It is very likely that some legislative measures will be adopted by Italy in the near future to protect works of art and prevent their being stolen from museums and picture galleries, as the "Mona Lisa" was. The minister of public instruction has been favorably impressed by the proposal of Commendator Agnet, who suggests a special law giving a sort of title of ownership to every work of art and declaring null and void all purchases and sales unless certain formalities are followed. The law suggested will be more or less as follows:

Article 1—The competent authorities will grant free of charge to the owners of art objects, such as statues, paintings, ancient objects, etc., a special certificate briefly describing the object, and in the case of paintings giving the name of the author or the school.

Article 2—Such objects can only be sold and their ownership validly transferred if a regular indorsement is made on the certificate and the signature of the owner is authenticated by a notary.

Article 3—The sale of art objects by mere delivery is null and void.

Article 4—The sale and purchase effected without a regular indorsement on the certificate is punishable by a fine and imprisonment and bona fide possession will not be admitted as an extenuating circumstance.

Article 5—No certificates will be granted for art objects owned by the state, municipalities, churches or religious and charitable institutions.

FOUR FLEA POWER OF WATCH

Delicate Little Instrument Whose Balance Wheel Is Driven More Than 3,500 Miles a Year.

Few pieces of machinery show more wonderful features than that of the watch. As a general proposition it may be stated that a watch is the smallest, most delicate instrument of the same number of parts that has ever been devised.

About 175 different pieces of material enter into its construction and upward of 2,000 separate operations are comprised in its manufacture. Certain of the facts connected with its performance are almost incredible when considered as a whole.

A blacksmith strikes several hundred blows on his anvil in a day and as a matter of course is glad when Sunday comes, but the roller jewel of a watch makes every day—and day after day—432,000 impacts against the fork, or 167,680,000 blows during the course of a year without stop or rest—or some 3,153,600,000 blows during the space of twenty years, the period for which a watch is usually guaranteed to keep good time.

Put the wonder of it does not cease here says the Michigan Manufacturer. It has been calculated that the power that moves the watch is equivalent to only four times the force used in a flea's jump. The watch power is therefore what might be termed the equivalent of a four flea-power. One horse-power would suffice to operate 270,000,000 watches.

Furthermore the balance wheel of a watch is moved by this four flea-power 1.43 inches with each vibration, or 3,558 1/2 miles continuously in one year. Not much oil is required to lubricate the little machine on its 3,500 mile run. It takes only one-tenth of a drop of oil to oil the entire machinery for a year's service.

PAY FOR THE FRENCH NAMES

Fastidious Restaurant Patrons Could Get Same Dishes in "American" for Much Less.

Frank P. Ward, writing for Harper's Weekly, declares that the men who cater to the hunger and thirst of the wealthy in New York make a profit of anything up to 300 per cent. For this condition he blames one class of restaurant patrons whom he describes as "persons who turn up their noses at eggs with grated cheese, 25 cents, but go into ecstasies over omelets a la reine, $1—exactly the same dish." To descend a little in the scale, says Mr. Ward, "beef and" establishments are highly profitable; a fact which, as he points out, goes to show that if these can coin money at five and ten cents a "throw," the others can do better.

There is undeniably a deal of sound sense in Mr. Ward's arraignment of ultra-fastidious persons who ecstatically pay 35 cents for food and 75 cents additional for a French name to go with it. The person of that temperament is evidently convinced that grub by a more genteel name would taste as sweet, and is determined to eat it by the other name, cost what it may. Why eat "vittles" when, by merely paying a quadruple price, one may have nourishment? Why, indeed! If French names for Yankee dishes serve best to keep in circulation the money of the final rich, by all means put them up in French.—Manchester Union.

WHERE PLATINUM IS FOUND

Rare Metal in Small Quantities Usually Is Associated With Gold in Gravel Beds.

Platinum is found associated with gold, principally in gravel beds. The ordinary source is accumulations of gravel which have been eroded from extensive area and gradually concentrated in one locality by the continued action of water. It is a rare metal and the accumulation must be from a great extent of country if a paying deposit is to be developed.

Platinum is of a silver gray color which is rarely tarnished. Its development is similar to gold, except that where gold is usually associated with quartz and light colored rocks platinum will be found more commonly with dark colored rocks, and especially those of a greenish shading.

It is found only in small quantities, except at two or three localities. Western Colombia and eastern Russia have gravel beds which afford the principal supply of this metal. Elsewhere it is found over considerable areas, but not sufficiently concentrated to be of importance. It may be looked for among the formations adjacent to regions of old volcanic activity.

The distribution is principally in altered rocks, and segregation seems to have been the principal cause contributing to its collection in ore bodies. The deposits found up to the present time have been of irregular mineralization and not of great extent, consequently all platinum deposits must be considered with caution.

Of the rare metals associated with platinum, iridium, osmium, palladium and others, little need be said because of their rarity. If found they will be associated with platinum and will be known by the greater hardness, brighter surface and greater specific gravity.—Moody's Magazine.

THREAD DOES SLEUTH WORK

Milwaukee Merchant Devises a Clever Scheme to Get Rid of a Troublesome Shoplifter.

The manager of a local department store took an efficacious method of ridding himself of a troublesome petty shoplifter recently. The woman has been coming into the store and picking up a small remnant, spool of thread, thimble or other article that happened to be lying about, having little intrinsic value, but being nevertheless a source of annoyance to both the clerk and the management. Because of the position of the woman, it was undesirable to institute an action.

A few days ago the manager took a spool of silk from the case, fastened the loose end of the thread with a tack, and allowing a bit of slack, left it upon the counter. It was not long before his party arrived, and deftly dropping the spool into her shopping bag, started out. The manager detached the loose end and followed her up the street, a few yards in the rear. He trailed her into another downtown store, and, as she was standing beside a counter in the midst of a crowded array of bargain seekers, approached her, calmly winding his thread and politely said:

"Madame, I'll trouble you for that spool of thread."

What followed can be more easily imagined than described. He got the thread and has not been troubled with losses since, nor have the other stores, so far as may be learned.—Milwaukee Free Press.

Bearded "Ladies."

M. Brandt, a Danish professor, comes to the conclusion that bearded ladies in time to come will be the order of the day. Ladies with beards who are now to be seen may be regarded as the precursors of the future race, and the professor comes to the conclusion that the more masculine woman becomes in her habits so much the more will she be in appearance. He does not think that bearded ladies will become general until at least two centuries have elapsed. His investigations show that the number of women with traces of mustaches, although clearly visible, increases but slowly. The Paris contemporary from which we take the foregoing suggests that the professor has missed the great point which he might have made and that is that as the number of men who shave increases daily it would follow that women would endeavor to grow beards from sheer perversity.

"Aeropotomanie."

Some months ago a learned professor at the Sorbonne wrote to the Parisian papers proposing that the word "petomanie" be used as a term to designate the aviator, the word petomanie being based, he explained, on the Greek root "pet," to fly. Another learned person says that the word harks back to the earliest days of aerostation, and quotes from Der Deutsche Merkur (the German Mercury), published by Wieland at Weimar, in October, 1783, which speaks of "Aeropotomanie," or the latest progress in flying.

The Ruling Passion.

"How is Mrs. Dumley? I understand the doctor gave her up?" "Yes, he did. But she's better. The other day she thought she was sinking and sent in a hurry for her women neighbors." "Well." "In ten minutes they were all playing bridge."

Krisis comes to the front with a brand new species of crime. Miss Mary Chamberlain, a school teacher at Shady Bend, was taken out by a band of a dozen men, some of them said to be "the wealthiest and most prominent men in the county" and stripped of her clothing and her naked body covered with a coat of tar. Four of the men have pleaded guilty and the others are standing trial. "Her popularity with men" is given as the cause of the outrage, instigated by "wives and sweet-hearts."

SALE OF BONDS

Second Issue of High School Bonds Taken By City Bank.

Pursuant to ordinance passed by the council, the second issue of $30,000 of School Bonds was sold Thursday to the City Bank & Trust Co. for par and accrued interest and a premium sufficient to pay for engraving the bonds, to be issued in installments as the money is needed.

BONDS TAKEN UP

City is Now Practically Out Of Debt.

By authority of the Council $25,000 of the $40,000 of outstanding Railroad bonds of the city of Hopkinsville were paid by a warrant for $25,130 55, including interest, and the bonds were last night burned in open council. The city, exclusive of school bonds, now has only $15,000 of bonded debt and its treasury contains twice that much cash.

It was announced at the close of the meeting that Mr. Carnegie had turned over to the trustees $1,000,000 in 5 per cent bonds of the United States Steel corporation the first installment of the gift of $5,000,000, which Mr. Carnegie offered to the foundation in March, 1908.

MARS AND EARTH.

Storms Rage on Both—Planet Nearest to Earth.

Mars is forty-seven million miles close to the earth today. This means that the earth and Mars are closer together during the present twenty-four hours than they will be again for a year.

The planet is so close that astronomers all over the world have during the past few weeks been watching with interest for some new manifestation of life on it. Nothing new has been found with the exception that lately an immense atmospheric disturbance has been seen, the disturbance covering an area as large as North America.

Astronomers in Europe say that this unusual condition is caused from a terrific storm which has swept the planet.

Imitating Us.

That the Civic Improvement society will make efforts to beautify the river front is evident by the enthusiasm shown at a meeting held last night in the parlors of the Kingdon Hotel.

The subject of improving and beautifying the river front took up the whole time of the meeting. Several splendid speeches were made on the subject, and the women present showed that they had studied the project in its every phase.

The consensus of opinion of all those present was that the river front was the most important thing that the society had to do and that all their efforts and energy should be devoted to its accomplishment.—Henderson Gleaner.

The Farmers Institute, announced for Nov. 16, met yesterday and organized by the election of M. B. King a President and J. E. Moseley Secretary of the Institute.

The attendance was small but some interesting talks were made by the lecturers sent from the department at Frankfort, Messrs. Hall and Perkins.

The election of a delegate was made a special order for 11 o'clock today, when the attendance is expected to be larger. All farmers and others interested in agriculture are cordially invited to attend and take part in the meetings.

NORTH BRIDGE

At Last in Good Condition And Freshly Painted.

For the first time since its erection four years ago, the iron bridge on North Main street is pronounced in good condition and is altogether an attractive bridge. When it was first erected the concrete floor was too heavy and sagged the beams. The Council required this floor to be taken out and a lighter one, reinforced, to be put in. The second floor cracked in some spots when tested and the weak places were covered with plank and remained that way for more than two years. Last month a final settlement was made with the bridge company and the bridge was accepted. The city at once repaired the four or five holes in the floor and the planks put over the new concrete have been taken off and the floor is in good condition. The iron work has also been given a new coat of chocolate colored paint and the bridge looks entirely new.

STROKE OF PARALYSIS

Mr. Joseph F. Garnett recently President of the Planters Bank & Trust Co., was stricken with paralysis at his home on the Clarksville pike Tuesday and his condition is serious. There were three slight strokes, disabling his arm and affecting his throat. Mr. Garnett's health has not been good for a year or more and this adds to the seriousness of the present attack. Mrs. Garnett and sons, John W., Thomas W. and Holland Garnett and his daughter, Mrs. Geo. E. Countzler, of this city, went to his bedside. Mr. Garnett is one of the leading landowners and capitalists of the county. He is a deacon in Salem Baptist church and a trustee of Bethel Female college.

Reports from Mr. Garnett yesterday were that he is now much better and that his illness is proving much less serious than was at first feared. He is in no immediate danger and his speedy recovery is confidently hoped for.

Painful Accident Near Lafayette Wednesday.

Oliver Ramsey, of near Lafayette, was the victim of a very serious accident Wednesday, and one that will lay him up for quite a while. Mr. Ramsey was moving from Lafayette to Stewart county, Tenn. On arriving at a branch he walked out on the tongue of the wagon in order to unrein his mules and let them drink, when the team became frightened and ran off. Mr. Ramsey was dragged some distance and one leg was caught between the wagon and a tree and was badly crushed, both bones being broken below the knee. In addition to this injury he sustained some bad cuts and bruises over his body.

A Helpless Invalid

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is, it would almost seem, to blame for her own wretchedness. Read what this woman says:

Richmond, Mo. — "When my second daughter was eighteen months old I was pronounced a hopeless invalid by specialists. I had a consultation of doctors and they said I had a severe case of ulceration. I was in bed for ten weeks, had sinking spells, and was pronounced to be in a dangerous condition. My father insisted that we try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and brought me six bottles. I soon began to improve, and before it had all been taken I was as well and strong as ever, — my friends hardly recognized me so great was the change." — Mrs. Woodson Branstetter, Richmond, Mo.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read what another woman says:—

Jonesboro, Texas. — "I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for myself and daughter, and consider it unequalled for all female diseases. I would not be without it for anything. I wish every mother in America could be persuaded to use it as there would be less suffering among our sex then. I am always glad to speak a word of praise for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and you are at liberty to use this testimonial." — Mrs. James T. Lawrence, Jonesboro, Texas.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.

DR. THOMPSON MODERATOR

High Honor For Able Pastor
Of First Baptist Church.

ASSOCIATION AT PADUCAH.

Body With Many Noted Men
Taking Part Closed
Yesterday.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 17.—For the first time in sixteen years the General Association of Kentucky Baptists convened at the First Baptist church Wednesday, it being the seventy-fourth annual session. About 300 delegates and messengers are in attendance, besides many visitors. The meeting will close to-day at noon. The Association was called to order by the Rev. J. A. Booth, of Taylorsville, the Moderator.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Moderator, the Rev. Calvin M. Thompson, of Hopkinsville; assistant Moderators, Prof. F. D. Perkins, of Russellville, and the Rev. M. E. Dodd, of Louisville; secretary, John T. Hill, of Georgetown, re-elected.

When the election of moderator was taken up, Dr. J. W. Porter, of Lexington, was first to gain the floor. In a neat speech he nominated the Rev. Calvin M. Thompson, of Hopkinsville, and testified to his ability. Other speakers supplemented the remarks. It was stated that Dr. Thompson represented the entire State. As a former pastor in Newport, he represented the eastern part of the state. As a former pastor of the First Baptist church, the host of the session, the Paducah people were honored. He is now pastor in Hopkinsville, and is well known in that section, while his former services as editor of the Western Recorder in Louisville have given him a state-wide reputation. With a man of his ability and acquaintance in the church his election was unanimous.

Dr. Thompson was escorted to the chair by J. N. Prestidge, of Louisville. Dr. Booth in his retiring remarks presented the gavel, which he said was made out of wood from the tree under which the first Baptist sermon was preached in the state of Kentucky. Dr. Thompson thanked the delegates for the honor and asked their co-operation. He said that the meeting promised to be the most successful in the history of the association, and asked that the session shall be characterized by spirituality.

On yesterday Madisonville was selected as the place for the next meeting, winning over Henderson.

MANY CANDIDATES

Are Seeking Municipal Places
At Hands of The New Council.

There are many candidates for the 25 or 30 positions to be filled next month by the six Democratic members of the incoming council. Frequent conferences are being held, but nothing definite has so far been given out as to who the lucky ones will be, except that it seems to be generally understood that no changes will be made in the Fire Department, of which Ed. H. Hester is chief. The following officials are holding positions to be filled for terms of two years:

J. D. Higgins, Tax Collector.
L. T. Brasher, City Attorney.
J. W. Harned, City Health Officer.
H. L. McPherson, Treasurer.
H. W. Tibbs, Clerk.
B. F. McClaid, Engineer.
J. T. Johnson, Cemetery Sexton.
Ellis Roper, Chief of Police.
Lieut. W. D. Hawkins, Sergt.
Garland Jones and Patrolmen M. W. Merritt, A. W. Witherspoon, Amos Haydon, J. A. Barnett, Ben Hadden, Leslie Boxley, J. L. Wolfe and F. B. Wilkins are filling annual terms. The new council takes office Dec. 4 and the election will be held some time later in the month in time for the new officers to qualify January 1.

Squinting.

I heard recently of a mother who smacked her small boy because he squinted. She remarked that if that would not cure the child she did not know what would.

She evidently had no idea that squinting is a nervous affection (unless it comes from a deformity of the eye, which generally can be cured by operation), and that sometimes it is a symptom of serious brain disorder.

Most of the "ugly tricks" that children develop in childhood are simply the result of "nerves" and to attempt to cure them by nagging, scolding or smacking is about the worst possible way to set about it. It is very important that they should be remedied, however, because sometimes these tricks have lasting impressions that endure even into adult life, and spoil the appearance or the manners—or perhaps both—and also may considerably injure the health.—Exchange.

West Steadily Advancing.

Beersheba is still an outpost of civilization against Bedouin tribes. Its commercial importance is increasing rapidly, owing to waterworks which draw their supply from seven wells mentioned in Genesis. That the historic East is gradually succumbing, however, to the progressive spirit of the West is indicated by the fact that a pumping plant has been erected over Abraham's well. When the railway system now under way has been completed, it will be possible to run trains from Paris to Damascus, Jerusalem, and Mecca itself.

Are Fishes Mirrors?

A scientist says he always fancied little fish were protected against the mouths of the big fish chiefly by their markings looking like the stones and reeds in the water, but he now concludes that all shining, silvery fish are mirrors, reflecting the dark bottom of the pond, and it is only when such fish come to the surface that the light shines on them, and they become visible to the big fish that they prey on little fish. So long as the little, silvery fish stay close to the bottom they look like mud and stones, only showing their shining silver when they come near the top and so are soon swallowed down.

TAPPING LAKE OF GENEVA

Project by Which Water May Be Brought to Paris by 300-Mile Canal.

New York is not the only great city that is troubled by the problem of a water supply. Paris has so nearly reached the limit of its convenient supply that it has revived the project of drawing upon the water of Lake Geneva.

This lake is in Switzerland, in the minds of most persons, but most of the southern shore is French territory, and although the control of the level by the barrage at Geneva is Switzerland's by treaty, still France claims it has rights that would allow it to lower the level by four inches during the dry season, which is all that is contemplated under the present plan.

The proposed canal would be over three hundred miles long, including many tunnels and the crossing of four large rivers, and would cost about $100,000,000. It has not advanced beyond the stage of discussion, but the need of Paris is so pressing that it may yet be realized.

RUN DOWN AN ARMADILLO

Animal Killed by Dogs in Virginia Proves to Be Soldier's Pet.

While hunting in the Virginia woods, near Bailey's crossroads, in Alexandria county, a few nights ago, a pack of dogs belonging to John Monroe and a colored man named Mortimer Wiggins ran down and killed an animal believed to be an armadillo.

The dogs were after opossums and coons, but getting on the scent of the animal, followed it for an hour or more before they landed their quarry.

Later it was learned that the armadillo belonged to one of the troops of cavalry at Fort Myer. The men had secured a number of the animals while on duty on the Texas border and had brought them to the fort.

The one that was killed had escaped and the men had been hunting the woods for it for several days, when they learned that it had been killed. This is possibly the only armadillo hunt that ever took place in the vicinity of Washington.

Protecting Wild Animals.

An important amendment to the game laws which goes into effect this year is that prohibiting the sale of game at any time. While this will have no effect on the average hunter, it will put an end to a practice which has had much to do with decreasing the supply of wild animals and birds in this state. The slaughter of game in order to supply the markets has in the past done much to aid in the extinction of our wild animals and birds, and the elimination of this type of hunter will be most beneficial.

Each year the game laws are being more strictly enforced, and the protectors have obtained a large number of convictions. The officials are no longer ready to overlook violations of the law, but are making every effort to put a stop to illegal hunting. And in this work they have the moral support of all good citizens of the state.—Schenectady Gazette.

Houseboats to Let.

The cult of the houseboat has never made much progress in this country, for a number of reasons, the chief of which is perhaps the liking of Americans for speed. Besides, we are a gregarious people, and hotels with their crowds attract most of those who have not the time or money for elaborate country places.

But in England and Germany these quiet summer floating houses are increasing in popularity, and a Berlin company has this year gone into the business on a large scale of building houseboats to let.

They are built on one pattern, the main feature of them being a roof veranda, to serve as dining and living-room. Perhaps we may some time appreciate their advantages, and our rivers may present as attractive an appearance as does the Thames.

NEGROES AT BANQUET

Chose Separate Table, but Preacher Lacked the Same Attribute.

Milwaukee, Nov. 16.—A half dozen negroes sitting by themselves at a separate table when a banquet in connection with the men and religion forward movement was given at the Y. M. C. A. building, looked rather strange to other delegates, who saw indications of race discrimination. The notion gained belief when they saw a negro preacher take a seat among the white men while the other negroes gestured violently for him to sit with them. He half rose, turned to his brethren, sat down again, scowling, and then rose once more. A few stage whispered words passed and he took his seat at the negroes' table.

A few minutes later he got up to talk and one of the first remarks he made was that "there are no black seats in Heaven." Then there were more violent motions from the negroes table for him to take a new tack. Still he hinted at discrimination until, heeding the murmurs of the other negroes, he turned about and changed his address into a plea for the co-operation of white people in religious work among negroes.

Rev. George J. Fox said his race had not been discriminated against; that he had made a special request for a separate table prior to the banquet, as he thought the men of his congregation would feel more at home at a table of their own.

Closing Business.

Resolutions commending the classified tax instead of the uniform tax, State aid and convict labor for road building in Kentucky, and a larger appropriation for the State Fair were adopted at the closing session of the Greater Kentucky Convention late yesterday afternoon.

MUSIC AS CURATIVE AGENT

Singing Teaches Correct Breathing and Lively Waltzes Have Good Effects on Melancholia Patients.

Two English physicians of prominence have recently asserted that the exercise given to the lungs in singing is valuable in the prevention and cure of diseases of those organs. They consider that increased professional recognition should be extended to this special therapeutic agency, as advisable in cases where pulmonary consumption is feared.

Singing involves correct nasal breathing, and this means that the air admitted to the lungs is practically germ free, and also the adequate development of the upper portions of the respiratory passages. Another effect is the maintenance of the elasticity and proper expansion of the chest. The necessary breathing exercises mean increased functional activity of the lungs. Then, there is the improved oxygenation of the blood, which singing necessarily promotes.

As we know, most singers and also those musicians who perform on wind instruments are a healthy looking lot. Not many years from now music will be recognized as a most valuable curative agent, especially in cases of insanity or morbidly. What tired, overwrought, distressed man or woman does not know the value of music. How many beautiful stories could be told of the power of music to sustain and restrain?

One of the greatest scientists living has testified that he was once kept from thoughts of despair and suicide by suddenly hearing in the next house someone playing Rubenstein's Melody in F.

In the Croydon Mental hospital, London, waltz music—particularly the bright, musical comedy pieces—is used in effecting a cure for melancholia patients.

WOMAN'S LONG BUGGY RIDE

Mrs. Sarah Conner With Four Children Drives 900 Miles in Six Weeks.

A strenuous overland journey has just been completed by Mrs. Sarah Conner and her four small children, who after a trip in a dilapidated buggy of 900 miles have arrived at Wheeler, S. D., their destination.

A span of ponies were hitched to a single seated top buggy which contained the mother and her four children, one a girl of eleven, a boy of nine, a girl of seven and a baby of eighteen months. In the old buggy were piled the worldly possessions of the family.

The journey required six weeks time. Some days they were unable to travel more than fifteen miles. The two older children and part of the time three of them walked while the mother drove. The ponies had only such grazing as they could find along the road and were without grain the entire trip. They were exhausted at the end of the journey.—Sioux Falls correspondence, Minneapolis Journal.

Real Angel of Death.

Most of us are familiar with the beautiful and artistic conception of French, wherein a young sculptor who is plying his magic chisel upon a block of stone and summoning from the snowy depths of the marble the dream face of his soul's idea, is gently touched by the wistful-eyed Angel of Death and the skillful arm forever stayed. The whole creation is marvelously beautiful and the world is better for its birth. Nevertheless, it is allegorical and misleading.

The real Angel of Death in the case of the thin-faced sculptor was not a sad-visaged maiden of classical profile. In all probability it was a minute, rod-like organism floating amid motes of dust and known to scientists as the "bacteria tuberculosis." The writer does not want to be a shatterer of ideals, but the sooner such poetic notions of death are done away with and the mass of the people educated in a common sense way to the dangers of dust and bacteria, the better it will be for humanity in general.—J. G. Ogden in October Popular Mechanics.

Treatment.

"Hum, yes," said His Majesty. "I'm languid—out of sorts. Nothing seems to interest me."

"In that case," said the court physician, "I should recommend an imbroglio."

Then the war clouds began to get busy and the diplomats hunted up their umbrellas.

"Now," said the monarch. "I feel like a fighting cock. Good old family physician."—Puck.

An Aggravation.

"I wish," said Mr. Growcher, "that Mr. Jabber wouldn't use that phrase, 'well, to make a long story short.'"

"Why?"

"It invariably serves merely to make the story that many words longer."

Growsome Revenge.

"You invite a great many people whom you don't really like to accompany you on your private yacht."

"Yes," replied the cynical person. "I enjoy watching 'em get seasick."

Rosy as a Girl.

Summit, N. C.—In a letter received from this place, Mr. J. W. Church, the notary public, says: "My wife had been ailing for nearly 12 years, from female ailments, and at times, was unable to leave the house. She suffered agony with her side and back. We tried physicians for years, without relief. After these treatments all failed, she took Cardui, and gained in weight at once. Now she is red and rosy as a school girl." Cardui, as a tonic for women, has brought remarkable results. It relieves pain and misery and is the ideal tonic for young and old. Try it. At druggists.

WHY HE LIKES WATERMELONS

Colored Man Discourses Philosophically on Those Soothing, Cooling and Filling Fruits.

A well-known lawyer, who is spending his vacation at home doing nothing, or, as he says, "loafing with all his might," tells of a talk he had recently with his colored hired man.

Going to the stable he found John with his face buried in a big piece of watermelon.

"Why is it, John, that colored people are so fond of watermelons?"

"I don't know," he replied, grinning. "Less 'em 'cause dey's people. I knows a 'heap o' white folks 'at likes 'em, too. I likes 'em 'cause dey's soothing, an' coolin', an' fillin', an' I spose dey 'simulates dat a-way wid white folks. I reckon dey ain' much difference 'tween white folks and cullud folks 'insides."

"Perhaps not. Do you consider the watermelon a fruit or a vegetable?"

"Well, now, it's jus' like this: Watermelons ain' no vegetable, 'cause dey won't stan' cookin' like cabbage nor cannin' like beans, nor dryin' like red peppers, an' dey ain' no fruit, 'cause dey doan grow on trees an' you can't put 'em in your pockets like apples and peaches. Looks to me like dey's jes' watermelons."

"How would it do to call it the fruit of a cucurbitaceous vine, distinguished for interior pulpiness and copiousness of watery juice?"

"Dat's it, 'zactly," said John; "dat's jus' what I was goin' to say."—Indianapolis News.

SEEMED TO FILL THE BILL

Young Suffragette Appeared to the Youth's Mother to Be Suitable as His Wife.

The young suffragette who had insisted on marrying the young man with whom she had fallen in love, approached the young man's mother in fear and trembling.

"Can you support my son," asked that lady sternly, "in the style to which he has been accustomed?"

"I cannot, madam. He will have to supply all the cash."

"Um. Are you able, in spite of your advanced views, to keep him badly in debt?"

"I am. That is my specialty."

"Do you know how to nurse him if he should fall ill?"

"Haven't the remotest idea. My childhood has been spent in attending caucuses."

"Ha! Will you guarantee to kiss him good-by every morning?"

"If I happen to remember it—but I can't guarantee anything."

"What time do you expect to come in at night?"

"O, anywhere from 12 to 3 in the morning."

"Do you rehearse your speeches at home?"

"Yes, as a rule."

The mother's face relaxed.

"We must be cautious in these matters," she said sweetly. "But, on the whole, I think you will do."—Life.

Then and Now.

Prior to the last 15 years, by the time people had attained their first quarter of a century, they considered themselves pretty much formed as to physical and mental characteristics. If they were ambitious and energetic they perhaps carried on some kind of exercise for their physical well-being, and guarded against mental deterioration as they advanced in years by occasionally taking up new studies or reviewing old ones; as a dear old lady of my acquaintance at the age of eighty-nine began to review her algebra to keep her mind active.

Now everything is changed. We cannot settle down comfortably in the thought of anything in the regular routine of life which we may not be called upon to alter at a moment's notice. Most of us have found that few of our established habits are right and that unless we are willing to be left hopelessly behind our associates we must learn over again all that we acquired in infancy, and that has since become a matter of automatic action.—The Atlantic.

Shine With Every Drink.

There have been in the history of barber shops such plans as "A shave and a shine all for a dime," "A haircut and a shine free," but it was left for a negro barber shop at 18 Ivy street to give a free shoe shine when a drink was paid for. That is, it was a Sunday blind tiger in which Will Strong, a bootblack, sold liquor and then gave his customer a free shine.

The police had suspected the barber shop for some time and on last Sunday they made a raid and found a large lot of whiskey in pint bottles. Will Strong was in charge and was running a bootblack stand. He claimed that another negro had brought the whiskey in to the shop without his knowing it. The Recorder sent Will Strong to the chain gang for thirty days.—Atlanta Constitution.

Cooper's Piano.

W. N. Potter of Cooperstown, N. Y., has in his possession a piano which he values very highly and is fond of showing to his visitors. It was owned by James Penmore Cooper.

C. D. Fease of Cooperstown made the piano and the great novelist bought it. Afterward he sold it to Judge Stewart, and, after passing through the hands of B. F. Jacobs of Milford and his daughter, it came into those of Mr. Potter. It is of six octaves, and is in a solid mahogany frame of plain design.

GAMBLERS OF HIGH POSITION

Great Ladies of England Formerly
Played Continually and for the Highest Stakes.

A little over a century ago there were hundreds of great ladies in England who made their drawing rooms regular gambling dens, and many in the most exalted social positions lost, or won, as the case might be, thousands of dollars in a single night's play. The royal princesses did not hesitate to play for the highest stakes and a faro bank was a portion of the paraphernalia of Dame Fashion.

Queen Elizabeth was fond of cards, but she was inclined to be somewhat peevish and lost her temper at the game. Mary, Queen of the Scots, carried her infatuation to the extent of wagering her personal attire on a game. She would play continually from Saturday to Monday, and sacrifice her wardrobe, if necessary, to do so. Queen Ann of Austria was fairly pursued by ill luck, we are told, but she is said to have played without passion or greed.

Anne Boleyn was an inveterate gambler, as were all the wives of Henry VIII, with one exception—Catherine of Aragon did not gamble, as she had no love for the card table. Nell Gwyn lost 400 guineas one night to the niece of a notorious gambler, Mazarin, who afterward died insolvent, having lost at cards an enormous fortune left to her by her cardinal uncle. Cards are still popular among the hostesses of many of the English drawing rooms, but not to the extent they were a century ago.

HUMOR IN HIS EXAGGERATION

Jabish Furlong's Recital Illustrates
the Characteristic That Makes Maine Stories So Amusing.

Novel and exaggerated smiles and comparisons characterize Maine speech. Instead of such commonplaces as "As light as a feather" and "As dark as a pocket," the comparisons are likely to be "Forty pounds lighter than a straw hat" and "As dark as the inside of a cow."

And it is this same humorous exaggeration that makes many a Maine story so likeable. Jabish Furlong, who worked for old man McKusick in haying time, had it.

"I had the greatest luck out gunning the other day," said Jabish. "I was walking a log across a deep hole in the brook, when I see a squirrel up a spruce on the funder bank. I up right there and fired, and I fetched down the squirrel and a partridge besides that was settin' in the spruce buddin'. But the old gun kicked me into the brook. Well, I floundered around, catchin' hold of everything within reach, and when I found myself up on the bank, I had a mink in one hand, a musquash in t'other and the seat o' mer pants was full o' trout."

Where Wesley Wrote Hymns.

The Rev. J. H. Wicksted, vicar of Bexley, Kent, England, has presented to the Wesleyan Methodists of Gravesend and Dartford circuit a tree from the vicarage garden, a sapling of the old oak under whose branches John and Charles Wesley, with George Whitefield, often met in friendly conference.

It is believed that Charles Wesley composed some of his hymns under its shadow, and John, in his diary of September 22, 1740, writes: "I went to Mr. Piers, the vicar of Bexley, where in the mornings and evenings I expounded the sermon on the mount and had leisure during the rest of the day for business of other kinds." He was there again Saturday, December 2, 1749, "and preached about 11."

Blue Devils.

When you find yourself in the possession of sundry blue devils, proceed to out-devil them. If they would have you go a mile go two miles. Put your will into it and see how blue you can be. "Pretend" you are a bluer blooded aristocrat than any of those that have come to visit. Be polite to them and let them entertain you. Do anything they bid you do. Sit down and mourn and wail to their heart's content. Beate everything and everybody. Just try it. Blue devils are such contrary imps that they never stay long where they are well treated. Their good mission is to torment. A hearty welcome sends them flying.—Elizabeth Towne in Nautilus.

New Russian Oil Region.

While Baku is known as the great oil producing province of Russia, and its wells have produced immense quantities, its reputation bids fair to be overshadowed by the new region, the Sallany Steppe. Sallany is about 125 miles distant from the city of Baku, on the shore of the Caspian sea, at the mouth of the Kura, the largest river in the Caucasus. Its position is a commanding one, both for supplying the European and eastern market. The petroleum deposits in the Sallany steppe have been known for years, but only recently has attention been attracted thereto. The possibilities are very great.

Forced to it.

"Did you ask father if you might have me?"

"Yes, darling."

"What did he say?"

"He said he would rather see you borne to your grave."

"Oh, pahaw, then we'll have to take it up with mother personally."—Chicago Record-Herald.

COSTA RICAN IS DIGNIFIED

He Loves Pomp and Ceremony and His Formal Banquets Are Distressingly Solemn.

"The Costa Rican loves pomp and ceremony. He plays with diplomacy, and from force of habit strikes a threatening attitude toward the head of the government, whoever he may be, but never carries it so far as to provoke a revolution, as is done in the sister republics.

"He is a perfect picture of the posing hero in the comic opera, never yet having been conquered by his enemy, but always on guard," writes a woman correspondent of Health Culture. "The old Spanish hidalgoes who warred with the Central American states did not consider the country around San Jose (reached then by a bridge path over the mountains) worth fighting for.

"So they left the natives in possession and the consequence is that the peon, or barefooted native, driving his yoke or diminutive oxen, is nobody's slave. He owns his mule and cart, his little patio of land and farmhouse. The tax gatherer has no place there, therefore when you meet him reincarnated as the dignified merchant he is a most self-respecting citizen.

"A dinner of fifty covers, with three kinds of wine, was tendered a foreign diplomat during our stay at the Hotel Imperial. When they were all seated and the dinner well on we gained a cogn of vantage where we were not seen, and I aver that a woman's suffrage luncheon in New York city was a hilarious affair in comparison to it. Yet nearly every man present had been educated in Europe.

"At Christmas time, during the ten days of fete, they enter heartily into the spirit of the carnival, and then fold themselves away for the rest of the year."

SAVED BY TROUSER BUTTON

Alpine Guide Finds Tiny Article in Rock Cleft and Lost Climbers Are Rescued.

The Alpine guide has practically no knowledge of the use of map and compass; in fact, he is prone to despise their aid, yet how many dozen of lives would have been saved on Mont Blanc alone had such simple aid been appreciated. The professional prefers to rely on his powers of observation and that peculiar instinct sometimes aptly described as the bump of locality. He is alert to detect the slightest traces of predecessors. A party of us were once befogged and had lost all idea of our position on the complicated westerly face of the Riffelhorn. A young guide was with us, and he became so dangerously disconsolate and helpless that one of the amateurs had to take the lead. For some hours we fought with severe difficulties, discouraged meanwhile by our companion's prophecy of certain disaster. His poor old mother was doomed to lose her only support! Things were altogether miserable. Suddenly we came to a ledge on a desperate corner with a steep chimney to the right. The young guide signaled his arrival by my side with a great and startling yodel, a joyous shout as of deliverance. His quick eye had espied a trouser button in the cleft of the chimney, and we knew that we had struck a regular route. That tiny relic of humanity put new life into the faltering one, and he then led us hand over hand to the summit.—Wide World.

Pit Brow Lassies.

How difficult it is to make laws to suit everybody is illustrated again in the tale which comes from England about the lassies of Lancashire. The poor slaves! They spend their young lives pushing heavy coal tubs to the pit brows of the mines. No decent civilization would permit its women to be so injured! So the philanthropists argued, and straightway a bill was passed forbidding the employment of women at the pit brows. But were the beneficiaries grateful? Not at all. They protested. A deputation of them traveled to London under the aegis of the mayor and mayor's wife of Wigan to urge the repeal of the law! "They all looked healthy," says the report, "and well dressed for their station." They are quite able to do the work, they protested, and do not want any benevolent Parliamentary intervention in their behalf.

Shifting Ministers.

One of Wesley's reasons for shifting his preachers every three years was avowedly that they might be able to preach the same sermon over again to different congregations. He knew by experience the difficulty of sermon making. After a few weeks, he said, a preacher cannot find matter for preaching every morning and evening, whereas if he never stays more than a fortnight in one place he will find plenty of matter, and the people will hear him gladly. I know that were I to preach one whole year in one place I should preach both myself and my congregation to sleep.

Live Litterateur Resented.

"You don't seem to care for any authors except those of a previous generation."

"Well," replied Mr. Cumrox, "I am kind o' prejudiced in their favor. You see, there's no chance that mother an' the girls will invite 'em to parties to act supercilious and superior."

CHICKENS STILL LOWER

Meat Markets in Louisville
Show All Live Stock
Declining.

The live poultry market has opened up in Hopkinsville with prices ranging much lower than for several seasons. The Haydon Produce Co. and Peter Fox & Sons are the leading wholesale dealers. The prevailing prices on the local market are a little lower than the Nashville prices. Prices yesterday were as follows:

Turkeys	12 1/2 cents.
Chicken hens	05 "
Springers	07 "
Roosters	03 "

The receipts are slow at these reduced prices. Every where prices are reported declining if anything, as the crop of poultry is enormous.

At Carlisle, Ky., one of the great turkey centers, turkeys are only 11 cents. These prices are having a perceptible effect on meats. The Louisville market was reported in yesterday's papers as follows:

Choice butcher cattle sold steady, but the medium and inferior kinds were dull and some lower. There was a fair call for the best feeders and good stock cattle; quite a few stock cattle on sale; some demand for good weight slop steers; common trashy stockers extremely dull; bulls steady; canners and cutters dull; milk cows unchanged. No prime heavy cattle here; feeling rather easy. The pens were well cleared.

Butcher steers $4 to $5.50, fat heifers $3.50 to $4.85, common grades $2.50 to $4.50. Hogs slightly higher, but the market closed easy with prices ranging from $6.55 down to $5.50. Sheep and lambs slow sale at 4 to 5 cents for the best and common sheep dull and draggy at 1 to 2 1/2 cents. "With these prices prevailing and the government hot after the Beef Trust, the prices of living are due to be reduced. The poor people who have been going with out meat can at least eat three cent oysters and two-cent mutton.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Between Owensboro And Hopkinsville Today.

The football championship of the Western Kentucky High School Association will be decided this afternoon, when the Owensboro High School eleven meets the Hopkinsville High School team on the local gridiron. Four schools are represented in the association. Both Owensboro and Hopkinsville won games from Henderson and the teams appear to be about evenly matched. A fine contest is promised and a large crowd doubtless will witness the game. The game will be called promptly at 3:15.

FINE SHOWS

At the Princess With a Great Program Monday Night.

Manager Bleich has been offering some especially good films at the Princess this week. Last night he gave the World's Championship Baseball Game recently played and all the fans were out to see it.

Monday Night another great special feature, "The Battle" will be presented, one of the best shows he has ever given. Everybody ought to see this realistic representation of a great battle.

The new Princess is expected to be opened November 27, when the old Princess will be known as the G. E.

HUNTERS AFIELD

And Bob White Has Slim Chance To Escape.

Sportsmen are having fine success and hundreds of birds have been brought in by the local hunters. Several report from 20 to 40 in a day's hunt. The fever seems to be spreading and the usual pot hunters have taken to the fields to make warfare on rabbits. These also are having good success and dressed rabbits are expected to be on the market today for the first time in months at about 12 1/2 cents apiece.

DEATH IN AIR POCKETS

Aviator Rodgers Tells of Asphyxia Lurking in the Atmosphere.

Pasadena, Cal., Nov. 16.—Ethereal asphyxia, or "aerial somnolence," is what Calbraith P. Rodgers, trans-continental aviator declares attacked him when he fell near Compton, Cal., last Sunday, on the last flight of his cross-country trip. Furthermore, Rodgers asserts this is what caused the deaths of many other aviators.

"It lurks in the pockets of upper air strata," he said today, "and creeps irresistibly upon the senses of the aviator, lulling him into unconsciousness."

"I believe the same thing to have caused the death of Arch Hoxsey, Ralph Johnstone, Eugene Ely and a number of others who have fallen to their death by losing control of their crafts."
